

Addressing Social Devaluation: The Importance of Valued Social Roles

For many, this workshop will present a new way of understanding the lives of marginalized people. Social devaluation is presented as the crucial problem and then this workshop looks at some of the wounding experiences that fill their lives and the impact these experiences have on the people themselves.

With new understanding, workshop participants start to ask, “what should I do?” Participants will be introduced to social roles and their influence, and how helping devalued people to fill valued social roles is a useful means to address the social devaluation in their lives. The concepts explained in this workshop are all derived from the theory of Social Role Valorization (SRV) developed by Wolf Wolfensberger, PhD. This one-day workshop is an “introduction” to training in SRV theory.
